EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Augusta, June 6, 1866.

To Municipal Authorities:

A CONSTRUCTION has been placed upon the blank applications for State Pension, to which it is perhaps liable, though by no means intended, (as will appear by the instructions accompanying the blank,) that every party applying shall declare him or herself a pauper. To correct this, in all cases in which persons applying are not receiving aid, either public or private, the third paragraph of the application signed by the proposed beneficiary, which declares the inability in the second line, should be changed by striking out the words "am," "and," and "continue to," so that line will read "obtain a livelihood for myself and those dependent upon me, and shall be compelled to," &c.

The object of this law is to relieve those who may be paupers, and prevent others from becoming so, and will be so administered.

EPHRAIM FLINT, Secretary of State.

Irresponsible Counterfeiters.
One of the most serious annoyances which the proprietors of an article in unusual demand have to encounter is the piratical imitation of it by parties equally unscrupulous and irresponsible. If an individual of a firm with means engages in this nefarious business, the damages awarded by a court of justice for the offense are collectable, and it is some satisfaction to the party wronged that the wrongdoer is made to suffer; but in most cases the pirates are men of straw, who cannot respond in dollars to the law's award.
HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS being a Standard Tonic, marketable everywhere, and representing the value affixed to it as accurately as a National Bank bill represents the amount expressed on its face, has been extensively counterfeited and simulated. The proprietors have spent many thousand dollars in hunting up and hunting down irresponsible individuals and firms who have given their minds to this dirty work. These parties—some of them, at least—have a way of changing their base, though they never change their business. When an injunction is laid upon them in one part of the country they sometimes "vamose" to another and try the trick again. In some cases it is necessary to kill them two or three times over. Perhaps the best thing that can be done under these circumstances is to "lay an injunction" upon all who use the Bitters to buy only of dealers whom they can trust. In every city, town and village of the United States and British America this famous tonic, alterative and protective medicine may be procured of reliable men of business.

The managers of the conglomerate Convention to be held in Philadelphia on the 14th of August have succeeded in getting one response from Massachusetts outside of the Democratic fold, though how far outside is not so clear. It comes from Hon. B. R. Curtis, a very able lawyer and jurist, whose political career, however, is very far from exemplifying the same ability. Mr. Curtis has written a long letter to Mr. Browning, in which he seems to regard the national situation as a nice legal point, to be settled by the application of ingenious theories, and where the parties whose rights and interests are at stake are of no consequence than nominal John Doe and Richard Roe. His view is that there has been a sort of "civil contest," having the proportions of an actual war, and when it was over everything was precisely the same as it was before, all the States resuming at once and necessarily their full powers under the Constitution. And the President, says Mr. Curtis, is the only branch of the government that is empowered to find out and announce when the contest is over. "It does not," he adds, "require legislative action to ascertain the necessary facts, and, from the nature of the case, legislative action cannot change or materially affect them."

It will be seen that this view has the simplicity, if not the profoundity, of genius.—It disposes of the whole reconstruction question, by denying that there is any such thing as reconstruction. It presents two main parties: the people of the rebel States, who yield and thereby become instantly clothed with all their old rights and authority in the Union, and the President, who perceives and declares the moment of this marvelous change. As for the loyal millions of the Republic, they and their Representatives have nothing to do with the matter except as passive spectators. This was not the opinion of the late and lamented statesman whose occupancy of the executive chair might have biased him, if anything would, from the path of rectitude and constitutional duty; nor is it the opinion of the loyal masses, who have no feelings of vengeance to indulge, but simply a determination to put the restored Union upon the basis of justice, equity and security.—[Boston Journal.

Despatches by the Steamship Palmyra—

The Prussian official Gazette says the treaty of alliance between Prussia and Italy declares that neither party shall conclude either peace or an armistice without the consent of the other.

A Berlin semi-official paper gives the following as the Prussian demands, in addition to the complete settlement of the question of the Duchies which in future are to act in union and be under the control of Prussia.

Prussia demands as the principal object of the war, the establishment of the unity of northern Germany under the leadership of Prussia, and moreover requires the exclusion of Austrian influence as a grand power of the confederation.

All that Bismark asks is the establishment of the union of her eastern and western Provinces which has become indispensably necessary.

The Emperor Napoleon, recognizing the justice and moderation of these demands has accepted the same as a basis of peace, and resolved to remain neutral in the event of their being refused by Austria.

The Moniteur du Soir contradicts these journals which appear to believe that the French Cabinet in offering its good offices wished to induce Italy to conclude an armistice independently, and was preparing to take part of an armed mediator.

It says France intervened diplomatically with an idea of bringing about peace, threatening no measures that would have created fresh and more serious complications.

LOOK ON THIS BILL OF FARE AND ON THAT. A Boston correspondent of the Amherst N. H., Farmers' Cabinet says there is a gentleman residing in Massachusetts, and a gentleman of education and refinement, and by birth and position the equal of Jeff. Davis or any other traitor, who was a prisoner at Belle Isle, confined there by orders from Davis, almost within sight of the executive mansion at Richmond. His bill of fare for one week was as follows:

"Monday—Breakfast, 0 0 0 Dinner, 0 0 0 Supper, 9 o'clock, corn pudding, 3 inches square.

Tuesday—Breakfast, 2½ inches corn dodger Dinner, 0 0 0 Supper, half a pint of fish soup (three worms in it.)

Thursday—Breakfast, 0 0 0 Dinner, corn dodger and small beef bone Supper, 0 0 0

Friday—Breakfast, 1 teaspoonful of rice, 1 egg and 1 pint of James River water, stirred together Dinner, 0 0 0 Supper, 0 0 0

Saturday—Breakfast, 3 hard tack, 1½ sq. inches bacon, 1 raw sweet potato Dinner, 0 0 0 Supper, 0 0 0.

Sunday—Breakfast, 0 0 0 Dinner, 0 0 0. Supper, 2 sweet potatoes, raw."

Our friend on the fence is still discussing "who should be admitted to the Philadelphia Convention?" In a column of verbiage he fails to reply to the following pointed allegations—

"The Daily News alleges that we are trying to apply tests of admission which are not mentioned in the call; and the World attributes to us a desire to impose a more wholesale rule of exclusion than Congress has applied to the Southern States."

If "Copperheads" and ex-rebels do not attend the Convention, the prime object of which was to rally the South to the defense of the President, and to form a new party out of all the odds and ends of opposition, who will remain?

Reconciliation being the programme, no one can fail to see that a Copperhead must be conciliated to every rebel convert. It is a poor plan to dismiss the army and go to battle with a body-guard. The General who adopts it is already a prisoner.—[Tribune.

—The Charleston indorsers of the call for the Philadelphia Convention are easily in fashion with the President. Their first resolution denounces "the Radical policy as hostile to the Constitution, and tending directly toward anarchy and misrule. We respectfully refer them to Fort Sumter.—[Tribune.

THE MUTUAL
Life Insurance Co.,
OF NEW YORK.
Assets over $16,000,000!
TO meet the choice of such present or future members as may prefer to have the amount insured paid in instalments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum, an equitable amount, to be determined by the Company, may be paid annually or semi-annually for any specified number of years, (say from five to twenty-five years,) if desired.
EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additions amounting to $5000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum, would be able to give (assuming interest as realized in the past) an annuity for ten years of over $2000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1100 per annum.
This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy-holders lest the future provision they have made for their families should be ineffectual or transitory in its duration, either through unsafe investments, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incidental to continuent trusts.
It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its punctual and full payment is secured by the LARGE AND SOLID CASH RESOURCES and good faith of this institution, which thus, to a certain extent, becomes the GUARDIAN or TRUSTEE of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency.
☞ All such deferred payments or annuities will share equitably in the profits or dividends of the Company.
This Company also issues SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and DEFERRED ANNUITIES

What General Chamberlain Says.

All must unite in demanding security for the future. We must have guarantees good and sufficient, against any future attempt to destroy this Government whether in the exercise of a pretended right by open war or BY A MORE ARTFUL AND INSIDIOUS ASSAULT. Against the principles on which this Nation was founded, there are points we cannot yield without danger and dishonor; and WHEN THE SOUTHERN STATES SHALL HAVE COMPLIED WITH THOSE CONDITIONS IN GOOD FAITH, they will be in a condition to ask association and fellowship with the loyal commonwealths of the country which they deserted with such violence and scorn. UNTIL THAT TIME, in my judgment, it is wise to hold them in strict probation.

"We cannot go back to gather up the fragments of the Union as it was; we must now recognize the nation as it is, and make the Constitution what it should be."

The Southern Unionists.

Circular Accompanying the Call for a Convention of Southern Loyalists.

The call for the Convention of Southern Unionists was accompanied by the following circular:—

WASHINGTON, July 10.

"SIR—The undersigned have been appointed by the signers of the accompanying call a committee to address you in their behalf, and urge you to prompt and energetic efforts in the appointment of delegates from your State and section to meet delegates from the other Southern States in Philadelphia, on the first Monday in September next. By the strong ties of common suffering in the past, and the dangers present and future that surround us, we appeal to you once more to come to the rescue in a moment of imminent danger to yourselves and our country.

We had all hoped that when treason was beaten in the field and her armed traitors captive to the government which they had wickedly sought to destroy, we of the South who, through four long years of untold sufferings and horrors, adhered to her fortunes and her banner amidst all the changes and vicissitudes of war, would at least receive protection to all the constitutional rights of American citizens. We relied confidently on the sense of justice and gratitude of all the loyal citizens of the United States, through their Senators and Representatives in Congress to guard in the most effectual manner our future peace and security against the malevolence, vindictiveness, hate and disloyalty of the late rebels. This confidence, we believe, has not been misplaced. We relied, too, as we had a right to rely, on the earnest and efficient co-operation of the Executive of the nation, placed in power by the great Union party of the country, because of his supposed devotion to the government, and his abhorrence of treason and desire to see intelligent, conscious traitors punished and made disreputable.

We confidently expected his hearty co-operation with the political department of the government in providing such governments in the States lately in rebellion as would protect the country from conspirators, in official positions, against its peace, and secure the loyal citizen in life, liberty and property, together with the inestimable privilege of impressing upon the minds of others his conscientious convictions of truth by speech or through the medium of the press. We also had reason to hope that the freedman as well as the loyal white man, in the South would find ample protection in all his rights as an American citizen, by actual military force if necessary, until equal laws and corrected public sentiment would place them on a firm and enduring basis, in these hopes, predicated on the oft-repeated declarations of the President, we have been grievously disappointed—cruelly deceived.

We have neither seen treason made odious nor traitors disreputable by any act of the Executive of the nation. We have seen traitors—leading, intelligent, conscious traitors—bearing away from the national capital with exultation, in the same pocket, indemnity for the past, and inforcement and security for the future, in the form of special pardons and appointments to federal office, while leading intelligent Unionists were made conscious that fidelity to the government was not the passport to Executive favor, but, on the contrary, servile subserviency to the President and his 'policy' as against the deliberate and matured judgment of the loyal people of the United States and the constitutional power of the Senators and Representatives in Congress, were the only conditions required of applicants for favor, whose claims thus sustained were in no instance impaired by reasonable antecedents.

We have seen our States that remained in rebellion to the close of the war, without an exception, reunited to the control of a rebel magistracy, elected by rebels to the exclusion of the friends of the Union. With one voice we can testify to the encouragement given to traitors and treasonable sentiments in the South in the past twelve months, and the deep gloom and despondency which has settled upon the minds and hearts of the loyal people in those States.

When the effect of the President's policy was first felt to be pernicious and ruinous, we were justified—certainly excusable—in believing that it was but an error in judgment which would be corrected by him with promptitude as soon as discovered. We had well hoped that he would hold to a just accountability those who we believed had so grosly abused his clemency and apparent magnanimity. They have doubtless understood him far better than we. The entire course of the rebels seems to meet his unqualified assent and approbation. The election of an unpardoned rebel to the chief magistracy of a rebel State, who in his first message to the legislature denounced the war on the part of the United States against the rebellion as the most unholy and disgraceful in character ever practised by a Christian nation, has the effect of procuring his speedy pardon.

The entire control by the late rebels, and present conspirators against the peace of the country, of eleven States; men who cherish the most deadly hatred of all lovers of the government, and are threatening them with violence, as in the beginning of the rebellion, who denounce the loyal people of the loyal States and heap invectives on their loyal senators and representatives in Congress, who they pray may be forcibly ejected by the bayonet from the halls of the National Capital, and the government administered by the will of the President; these and such as these, together with their northern sympathizers, are esteemed his associates and counsellors of the chief magistrate of the nation, and constitute the material out of which a new party—the Johnson party—is to be formed to guide the country through its present perils and mould its future destinies.

The leaders of the movement are well understood by the loyal country. The President and his friends, well knowing that he has forever forfeited the confidence of the great Union party which elected him, have madly determined to organize a new party of this "speckled progeny of many confutations." The effect has been to consolidate and crystalize the Union party. It stands to-day more compact, powerful and confident than at any period of its existence. Its triumph in the approaching fall elections is not only certain, but will be overwhelming. What is the duty of the unconditional Union men of the South, and what is to be their position? Our duty is plainly to act with the friends of the government, who are our friends and our only friends. We must take position with the loyal people and Congress of the nation against the machinations of the coalition rebels and their northern sympathizers.

We can have no affiliation with those who deride and hate us because of our love of the Union now and in the past, and who, there is abundant reason to believe, are at this moment again conspiring to overthrow the government. If those who are to constitute this new party should attain power and possess themselves of the control of the government, what consideration may we expect at their hands, what mercy can we hope? They have proved faithless to every pledge and obligation however sacred, both before and since the rebellion. The most solemn oaths are made by them as a mere cloak for treachery. Send magnanimity and mercy on the part of an outraged government and its friends are impudently and insultingly derided the moment they are relieved from dread of punishment. No history furnishes an example of such incorrigible guilt and shameless audacity.

To the Union party, and to that alone, we look for relief from our present unhappy condition, and for permanent security in the future. The party is powerful enough for success without our aid, but it is none the less our duty to signalize our devotion to the principles of republican liberty which that party is so nobly sustaining by active affirmative co-operation on our part. Moreover, if we wish the support the countenance and protecting care of the Union party to shield us from the dangers which now threaten us, we must not be afraid to make known to them our condition and dire necessities. It is scarcely too much to say that the Southern Unionists, though too weak for self-protection, hold in their hands the key to the solution of the question of reorganization of civil state governments in the South. We know it has been said that we have been ignored by all parties in and out of Congress,—that we are being ground to dust between the upper and nether mill-stones. Let it be remembered that as a party in the South we have made no effort to make known our wants, our conditions, our hopes and our sufferings.

We do assure you that it is the wish, the ardent desire and intention of Congress to give us protection and security when fully advised of our needs.

Let us, then, perform our duty to ourselves and our country by meeting together for consultation upon our present condition and future interests, and present to the country the united voice of the down-trodden Unionists of the South, presenting a fearless and truthful statement of facts which shall command the attention and challenge the confidence and sympathy of every friend of the government and of human liberty throughout the land.

It may be that fear of the same despotism over the minds and consciences of men that existed in the beginning of the rebellion and reigned supreme in the South during its continuance will again assert its power and condemn to eternal punishment those who may dare respond to our call. We have but to say that whatever sacrifices are involved, we must aid in breaking the shackles that bind us.

If the enemies of free government do not yet understand that the rights of American citizenship are to be paramount and supreme over the hellish spirit born of slavery and nurtured by bigotry, ignorance and prejudice, they will learn it in the throes and struggles of the next civil commotion which they and their abettors inaugurate.

One other step and they will have placed themselves forever without the pale of forgiveness. The fiat has gone forth. The people of the United States have resolved that this shall be a government of freedom and equal rights for all; and woe to those who shall hereafter resist this solemn judgment. He who is guilty of a second rebellion to this government will appeal in vain for pardon. Let us act boldly as becomes freemen; and if we should thereby incur danger, the country will understand and appreciate the shameless hypocrisy of those who prate of their loyalty and right to readmission into the Union in one breath, and in the next excite a brutalized mob to violence upon a citizen for exercising the constitutional right of meeting his fellow-citizens to petition the political power of the nation for a redress of grievances. Let us do our duty, and trust to God and our loyal countrymen for vindication and protection.

We urge to lose no time in making your nominations, by public meeting or otherwise, as may be most convenient for you.—You can scarcely conceive the importance which gentlemen from every part of the country attach to this proposed meeting of Southern Unionists. We venture to say we have, in a great measure, our destiny in our own hands. It is earnestly hoped that we will wisely use the power we possess.

Your obedient servants,

A. J. HAMILTON, of Texas,
M. J. SAYWORD, of Alabama,

MONSTER WIGWAM. The Philadelphians are making extensive arrangements for the accommodation of the proposed Convention on the 4th of August. They are building a wigwam to convene them which will cover a whole square. If it is true that the Copperheads of the North and the Rebels of the South are to take no part in the deliberations, they will be compelled to go out into the highways and byways and invite everybody in to the meeting. The halt and wounded are already invited.

The Nashville Press gives particulars of a Fourth of July celebration in Gallatin, Tennessee. Some indiscreet person had raised the flag of the Union on that auspicious morn—a manifest indignity to "the Lost Cause." The flag was accordingly torn down by Southern patriots, who tied one end of it to the tail of a cow, and the other to the tail of a dog, and then drove the poor brutes pell mell through the streets, trailing the flag in the dust, as a slight token of their "sincere" desire to be re-admitted to the rights and privileges which they forfeited by rebellion.

KNOWLES' Vegetable Hair Restorer!

AS A HAIR PREPARATION this stands without a rival—has proved itself by the thousands who have tested its virtues for the past three years,

THE ONLY RELIABLE RESTORER

Of Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair, to its original color, condition and former beauty.

It is not a Dye, being a Vegetable Compound, and not injurious in its application; but is warranted to restore Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair to its original color in 20 days.

By its invigorating properties, promotes a luxuriant growth on Bald Heads, in all cases where such a result is possible; prevents the hair from falling off; eradicates dandruff, humors, and all other impurities from the scalp; and as a Restorer and Dressing combined, it has no equal.

The great and increasing sales of this preparation attest the high value in which it is held; and the fact that its reputation has been established solely upon its own merit and worth—the trial of a single bottle will convince the most skeptical of its virtues.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

FLIES,---FLIES.

EMERY'S

Great American Fly Catcher.

Patented May 1, 1866, by Jas. Emery,

Manufactured and Sold by

SEAVEY & CO.,

Nos. 83 and 85, Blackstone Street, Boston.

THIS is the greatest invention of the age for destroying that great pest, the House Fly, which is so annoying to every household and destructive to goods displayed in show windows, Hotel and Saloon Tables should be ornamented with them—thereby doing away with that unclean appearance too often observed.

There has been heretofore objections raised against the use of Fly Paper on account of its unclean appearance, together with the trouble it occasions by the dead flies dropping about into every thing. Now by this truly elegant invention, these great objections are entirely done away with. The flies are all collected within the Catcher, giving a neat and wholesome appearance to the premises where used.

In stores where goods are exhibited and exposed to the damaging influence of the fly, this invention cannot be overestimated.

THE SICK ROOM

Is rendered more comfortable, and the patient requires less attendance. The infant can take his nap in peace.

Mothers, no nursery should be without its Fly Catcher.

Watch Makers, Engravers, Artists, and all other persons engaged in delicate employment will find them an indispensable article for their rooms—another great consideration is its cheapness and durability—for 50 or 75 cents according to style, you have a Fly Destroyer that will last an age.

TRY ONE AND YOU WILL BE SATISFIED.

The Catcher's have been recently improved by adding a perforated bottom and lower entrance. The Catchers are warranted to catch a host of flies, or no sale.

Arrangements will soon be made for their sale in all cities and towns in the country.

Orders sent to SEAVEY & CO., will be answered promptly.

Canvassers will find this the best selling article for the next four months, ever invented.

Terrible Riot in New Orleans!

THE 1864 CONVENTION FIRED INTO

The Hospitals Filled with the Dying and Wounded.

Additional Foreign Intelligence!

Cable Despatch from Queen Victoria to the President.

President Johnson's Reply.

NEW ORLEANS, July 30.

A fearful state of excitement prevails in this city. W. R. Fish has been drawn out of the Convention and carried to the lock-up by a double guard of police amid cheers of populace and cries of hang him. The excitement throughout the city is unbounded.

1 p. m.—The President of the so-called convention of 1864 and the members thereof are being one by one arrested and confined.

1:30 p.m. A procession of negroes with flags flying and drums beating, while marching towards the Mechanics Institute, were met by some whites, who were repulsed after endeavoring to disperse them. Several shots were fired, but no one was hurt.

The convention met at 1:20. Twenty-six members present.

There has been no interference with the convention yet. Military will be ordered out at once.

1:45 p. m.—Most intense excitement now prevails throughout the city.

Individual firing is going on in common in Canal and Dryade streets. Two whites are reported wounded.

Immense police force is out and using all possible efforts to quell the riot.

2 p. m.—Large numbers of negroes armed in considerable manner, but principally with clubs, are assembled in front of Mechanics Institute.

3:15.—Rioting in the city is partially suspended.

The police surround the building where the convention is held. The police are trying to get them out, but the populace is very belligerent.

Dr. Aphostic and John Henderson, Jr., have just been brought out of the building dead and are being carried off in carts, and it is doubtful if many are gotten out alive.

3 P. M.—The populace surround the building where the convention is being held. There is an immense number of negroes inside and outside the building. Outside the police and the people quickly became masters of the situation and commenced to besiege the building. Those inside the building seeing themselves closely besieged hung out the flag of truce, whereupon the police ascended the stairs to protect the members of the convention; but no sooner had they marched into the hall than the parties inside opened an indiscriminate fire upon them.—The flag of truce was then no longer respected, and every individual head in convention were being fired upon.

4 P. M.—Fearful work continues. It is not known how many persons are in the building. Arrests continue to be made by the police and the crowd continues to gather in force. Fred Shaw and John Henderson were not killed as reported but badly wounded. The latter is not expected to live.

A Times extra says the riot was occasioned by one of the freedmen's procession this morning shoving a white man and tripping him. The policeman supposed the man had been struck, and advanced and arrested the supposed assailant. They were met with a volley of pistol shots, bricks, &c., which at once created general excitement, and hence this bloody tragedy which has been enacted.

The excitement has generally subsided and the utmost order prevails.

Mayor Monroe previous to the riot had an interview with Gen. Baird and asked for assistance. Gen. Baird consented, but the troops came after the disturbance was over.

All the lockups in the city are filled with rioters, and the hospitals with dying and wounded.

The city is perfectly quiet. The crowds on the different thoroughfares near the convention building have all been dispersed at the point of the bayonet, and artillery is planted within sweeping range.

ASPEY BAY, July 30.

The Superintendent of the Newfoundland line arrived here at 9 o'clock this morning, with a message from the Queen of Great Britain to the Pres't of the United States.

Osborne, July 27, 1866.

To the President of the United States:—

The Queen congratulates the President on the successful completion of an undertaking which she hopes may serve as an additional bond of union between the United States and England.

The following answer was returned:

Executive Mansion,
Washington, July 30.

To Her Majesty, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland:—

The President of the United States acknowledges with profound gratification the receipt of Her Majesty's despatch and cordially reciprocates the hope that the cable which now unites the Eastern and Western Hemispheres may serve to strengthen and to perpetuate peace and unity between the Government of England and the Republic of the United States.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.

HALIFAX, July 30.

Additional foreign news per steamship China:

It is asserted from Paris that Austria has consented to retire from the German confederation.

It is stated that Frankfort will have to pay a further war contribution of twenty-five millions of florins.

The Observer states that Parliament will be required at almost the last moment of session to give its concurrence to the confederation of the North American Provinces, including place for the continuance of the Grand Trunk Railroad.

The London Times is glad that Lord Stanley is able to state France has no intention of interfering her force in the continental dispute.

The cholera is making its appearance in many parts of England, and the mortality in some cases is rather alarming.

The Paris Moniteur of the 20th says that Prussia has engaged at the suggestion of Napoleon to abstain from all acts of hostility for five days, on condition that Austria pursues a similar course, and within this time the Austrian government must make known its acceptance or refusal of the terms agreed upon. If the reply from Vienna is affirmative, and Italy gives her consent, an armistice may be signed immediately.

Same paper, 21st, says Austria has accepted this proposal of Prussia.

Correspondence from Vienna states that the Austrian forces gathered together for the defence of Vienna are estimated at 400,000, with 600 field guns.

About 100,000 men are said to be crowded within the entrenched camp of Florisdorff.

From 60,000 to 80,000 choice soldiers from Venetia and joined the Austrian army.

Everything betokened the coming conflict as inevitable.

The former were saved, but the latter have not been heard from. Madame Anna Bishop and party were among the passengers. Steamer City of Buffalo, which arrived here Saturday evening from Chicago caught fire this noon while unloading at Sturges Elevator. The boat and cargo were entirely destroyed, except about 35,000 bushels oats, which had been unloaded. The fire communicated to the Sturges Elevator, which is now burning and will be a total loss. The Elevator is valued at $100,000, and had about 150,000 bushels of grain, mostly oats. Total loss on Elevator and grain $200,000.—The City of Richmond had 12,000 bushels of oats on board. LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS.

THE STEAMER CITY OF RICHMOND, which runs regularly between Portland and Machias, touching at Rockland, Islesboro, Castine, Deer Isle, Sedgwick, Mt. Desert, Millbridge and Jonesport, is one of the staunchest, swiftest and best arranged boats ever in our eastern waters. She is commanded by Capt. Charles Deering, well known in this vicinity as a careful and gentlemanly officer. In all her appurtenances she is a first class boat, and her regular trips show some of the most delightful scenery in the country.

At Rockland she connects with our good Steamer Katahdin, Capt. Johnson, thus affording Bostonians the opportunity to visit Mt. Desert and other places, without unnecessary delay—and our own citizens a chance to visit Portland, see the ruins, and return—all the time enjoying the pleasure of first class boats and comfortable sleeping arrangements.

One can leave Bangor Mondays and Thursdays at 11 o'clock by Katahdin, for Rockland—the City of Richmond will be found waiting at the wharf—quietly possessing yourself of a state-room or berth, you awake next morning in Portland, with the privilege of remaining in peace on board the boat until ready to turn out and look at the ruins. The entire day may be spent in Portland.—At night, return to your place on the Richmond, and in the morning you will find yourself at the wharf in Rockland in season to take the Katahdin for Bangor, arriving at home in season. By this route the ruins at Portland may be visited and the benefits of the seaboard secured at one and the same time.

We are pleased to learn that the new route from Portland to Machias is likely to prove a permanent and paying institution, as it is a great convenience to the travelling public, as well as to the people of the eastern part of the State.

—We learn that at a meeting of the 2nd Baptist Church, held last Sabbath, an invitation was extended to Mr. S. L. B. Chase of Bucksport, a recent graduate of Newton Theological Institution, to become their pastor. Rev. C. G. Porter, who has been with them from their origin, a term of twenty-one years, resigned the pastoral charge in 1864, but by request of the church has been supplying them until the present time. The church and society are represented as in a prosperous condition, a recent revival of religion having considerably increased their numbers. We are glad to know that Mr. Porter, who is now our oldest resident pastor, is not to remove from this place, but will remain to engage in missionary labors in the city and vicinity—a work much needed, and to which, by his long residence among us, and the interest which in connection with his pastoral labors he has always taken in it he is peculiarly adapted.

POLICE COURT. Yesterday, John B. Elwell, charged with stealing, was ordered to recognize in the sum of $1000 for his appearance at the August term of court—for want of funds and friends he was committed.

Nelson Nadds, for larceny of a pair of pants from Tobins, was fined $10 and costs.

John Sears and John Cox, for fast driving and abusing a horse, was fined $18 and costs.

NEW FIRM. Messrs. Mace & Laughton have opened a law office in Wheelwright & Clark's Block, West Market Square. Mr. Laughton has just graduated at Harvard, and enters into business with Mr. Mace, who has long been located in this city.

—We are indebted to Mr. Perkins for a lot of fine raspberries of his own raising.—Also to Mrs. M. and Mrs. H. for similar favors.

RISE OF WATER. The late rains have risen the water in the Penobscot at least three feet. The Penobscot river steamers commenced running to day.

—We are pleased to learn that the little child of Mr. Frank Garland, who fell overboard from the Fairy of the Waves on the late excursion, has nearly recovered from the effects of the blow received and the water.

EXCURSION TO MT. DESERT. About three hundred and fifty persons visited Mt. Desert yesterday on the Lady Lang. The weather was fine and not an incident occurred to mar the pleasures of the day. The scenery was delightful, the sea breeze refreshing, the party an exceedingly agreeable one, and all returned highly gratified with the trip. The success of this experiment will undoubtedly induce the managers of the boat to continue the excursions.

LL.D. In looking over the very valuable book called the Legislative Manual, we notice that all the Judges of the Supreme Court of this State who are entitled to the degree of LL.D., have those letters attached to their names except Hon. Jonas Cushing of this city. He received the degree in 1828 from his Alma Mater, Dartmouth College, and if it was ever deservedly given to any lawyer, it was to Judge Cutting.—[Times.

—Under the head of "Skowhegan Items" the Commercial Bulletin has the following, which shows that to be quite a smart manufacturing place.

Messrs. C. A. Williams & Co. chisel the people pretty extensively, making 3,000 doz. of that useful article per annum, and 20,000 pairs of skates, which may be called an ice item. They have a fine factory, three stories in height, 40x80 feet, with machinery which is mostly of their own invention, driven by water power. They have been in operation for about three years, and their manufacturing last year footed up aoqut $75,000.

Although established but one year in business, the edge tools of Stewart, Williams & Co., have an excellent reputation. They now employ 30 hands, and turn out 20 doz. axes per day.

Henry White, although a wide awake man, does a blind business, keeping 12 hands at work in the manufacture of blinds, doors and sashes for the Portland and Lewiston market.

At the foundry of S. L. Gould & Co., mill gearing work and fixtures are extensively made. The water-wheel and pump invented by Mr. S. L. Gould, which are highly esteemed by manufacturers, are the specialties of the firm, who have been established two years and employ 12 hands.

Our large cities cannot supply the demands of fashion, and Messrs. Wade & Ward make 250 hoop skirts per day for the Boston and Portland markets, employing 25 hands.

Book, news and wrapping paper is made in large quantities, and of good quality, at the paper mill of R. Lyon & Co. They are running 4 engines of 200 lbs. each, and make 1,800 lbs. of paper daily, employing twenty hands; have been established eleven years and their business amounts to 100,000 per annum. A. & B. Coburn, of this firm, are also extensive lumber dealers, manufacturing 25,000,000 feet annually, on the Kennebec.

Longfellow little thought that his brilliant poem could be used to stuff a mattrass, but it is an undeniable fact that "Excelsior" is largely used for that purpose. The Excelsior Manufacturing Co., of Skowhegan, have a manufactory of 100 feet by 40, and 4 stories high, where they make this article from wool, and also spin and wave it into carpets and mats. When in full operation the company will employ 75 to 100 hands, and consume 2,000 cords of wood per annum. John Targart, their superintendent, claims the entire invention.

C. M. Bailey, the great oil cloth manufacturer, gives constant employment to 50 hands in Skowhegan and 80 in Winthrop. He has two manufactories in the latter place, 110 feet by 60, and 3 stories in height, turns out about 300,000 yards per annum here, and about double that amount in Winthrop.—His revenue tax for the past year was $80,000.

—Our two Daily cotemporaries, the Whig and Times, are engaged in a rather sharp controversy as to the real doctrines and views of the latter paper in relation to the Johnson-Seward Executive, Congress, and national questions generally. After much perplexing effort in this direction the Whig on Saturday morning announced its conclusions and convictions to be, that the Times is a copperhead Democratic paper in disguise, the disguise being very thin and of not much practical utility to the wearer in this loyal community.

We do not invite ourself into this controversy, but we feel constrained to say that if we were requested to point out any material difference between the Times and the Bangor Democrat, we should promptly decline the undertaking, and hand over the request to the Times itself, with the friendly wish that if it should discover any material difference it will state that difference so distinctly that no intelligent person could mistake its extent and purport.—[Jeffersonian.

—The Alison Advocate states that on Friday the dwelling house of Mr. Ichabod Norton of that town was burned, together with most of its contents.

—We learn from the Houlton Times that a Fire Company, consisting of some sixty members, was organized on Friday evening last with the following officers:

Eben Woodbury	Foreman.
A. H. Fogg,	2d do.
A. P. Heywood,	3d do.
J. Z. Swanton,	Hoseman.
A. McEachron,	2d do.
H. C. Bradbury,	Clerk and Treasurer.

—A communication in the Portland Press advocates the erection of fire-proof tenement houses in Portland. The plan adopted in the Peabody model lodging houses of London to be followed.

Hon. James G. Blaine, M. C., from our Third District, was in town yesterday on a brief visit. He is better than he was tho' looking somewhat thin.—Press.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—The captain of a vessel at Detroit recently took out a manifest for twenty-five barrels of whiskey to be shipped to Vermilion, Ohio; then crossed the river by night to Windsor, C. W., where the water which the barrels had been filled, was drawn off, and they were refilled with whiskey!—The vessel then sailed for Vermilion, where the manifest was exhibited and found to be correct. Within a short time the Custom House officers received information of this sharp practice, and immediately seized the vessel and eight barrels of whiskey which remained on board. The owner was tried at Cleveland and fined $4000.

—Commodore Rodgers, under date of San Francisco, June 28, reports the arrival of the Monadnock in good condition at that port. He says:

"A gale of fifty hours duration off Point Conception, California, brought with it the heaviest seas we have met. The ship, however, was abundantly able to ride it out, and we received no damage. The wheel-ropes parted twice, but were soon repaired, the ship lying to with her engines while the repairs were made. The engines traced considerably as the seas left the stern, but were uninjured. They always performed admirably."

—Queen Victoria has just had the whooping cough. She took it from some of her children. She went to Balmoral to get rid of it, but was disturbed in her retreat by the resignation of the British minister.

WASHING MADE EASY.—Compounds without number have been introduced for this purpose, but practical experiments have shown, that in connection with general economy, Pyle's O. K. Soap has made the nearest approach to the desired perfection; and is the manufacturer will only continue to keep up the quality of his Soap, he will be rewarded by a fortune, and a pile of blessings besides.

Every grocer should supply his customers with this valuable Soap. Depot, 350 Washington Street, New York.

The soldiers and sailors bounty equilization bill of the early part of the session has failed to become a law. It was strongly favored by the House and strongly opposed by the Senate and the Treasury Department. In its stead we have a partial measure—in the form of an amendment to the Miscellaneous Appropriation bill. The subject gave rise to a great deal of debate, and almost served the bill as the Winter Davis reconstruction ride did the Deficiency bill of last session. The first conference report, which surrendered the whole question was indignantly defeated by the House, receiving but fourteen votes, and the second, which embodied something, would have been rejected by the Senate, but for the lateness of the hour. As it is the bounty does not apply to sailors and marines. Soldiers who enlisted for three years and served out the full term or were honorably discharged on account of wounds before the expiration of their term, are to have $100; two years men get $50, and the law is made applicable to the heirs. Any soldier who has bartered, sold, assigned, transferred, loaned, exchanged, or given away his final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other act of Congress, shall not be entitled to receive any additional bounty whatever. It is estimated that this measure will add some seventy-five millions to the public debt.—[Sp. to Advertiser.

The President and Cabinet spent about two hours on Saturday in discussing the civil appropriation bill. The features which gave most trouble were the bounty provision and the increased pay of members of Congress. The bill was signed by the President very reluctantly.—[Sp. to Boston Journal.

[From the Bath Times.]

History of a Strange Character.

Thirty-six years ago last August, there died in one of the narrow and gloomy cells of the Kennebec county jail in Augusta, Me., a man whose noble mien and strange history attracted the attention and commanded the fees of nearly every man, woman and child who visited that village, and had time to behold so singular an object and listen to his tragical narration. This was the venerable Henry McCausland. In that cell, 'solitary and alone,' he spent a life of thirty-six years—between the ages of 36 and 72—awaiting, and all the time earnestly demanding the sentence of death for the crime of wilful murder—a sentence which, though he was found unqualified 'guilty' in courts, was never pronounced upon him! His person was one of the noblest specimens of the genus homo—full six feet in height, well proportioned in body and limbs, straight, erect, with a kindly countenance and a flowing beard of snowy whiteness, which for all that time, had felt only the friendly salutations of a huge horse-mane comb! Like the beard of the great Hebrew priest, it 'went down to the skirts of his garment.' It was not common or fashionable then, as it is now for his modern imitators, to exhibit such barbarian, because unbeardered, visages; and consequently his Jewish physiognomy was a terror to juveniles and the wonder of all.

The circumstances of his life-long imprisonment, without sentence, or execution of legal punishment, were singular, and will bear a narration even at the present day.

Henry McCausland was a millwright in Gardiner. He was a patriot of the Revolution, and served his country well in the war for Independence. During a violent religious excitement, produced by certain New Lights, he became a convert, and his impressions were so strong, that he thought he held direct communication with the Almighty, who required him to make a Burnt Offering and a Sacrifice. On every other subject but that of religion, he was perfectly rational, but on that he was perfectly deluded, in fact, a monomaniac. For a time he resisted the heavenly calling; but the more he resisted, the clearer were his visions and the thicker came the texts of Scripture which urged him to 'obey God rather than man.' But what should be his Burnt Offering? and where should he find the victim for sacrifice? These were revealed to him in this wise: There was an English Episcopal church in Gardiner, built by its legalized patron, William Gardiner, for whose name the town was called. This church, in the phraseology of the New Lights, was a child of the 'Mother of Harlots—the whore of Rome.' It was a proud, scornful enemy of true religion and of its true revivals. The edifice where Satan had his sanctuary must needs be put out of the way; that, therefore, was doomed for a burnt offering. Accordingly, at the night of the 22d of August, 1793, he fired a child's shoe with live coals and repaired to the church, which he soon succeeded in burning to the ground. That same patron of the church had no wife, but a married woman kept his house, and who, as Mr. McCausland believed had given birth to three illegitimate children by the church patron, thereby committing the 'unpardonable sin' against the three persons of the blessed Trinity, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. Evidently she was a proper victim for the sacrifice. It happened on a certain night in October, this woman, Mrs. Warren, was called to watch with a sick sister up the Cobbossee stream. Thither he repaired at midnight by the means of his canoe, entered the house and sick room without ceremony, and proceeded to the discharge of his pious duty. Mrs. Warren was partially reclining by the side of her sick sister, supporting her aching head upon her own bosom. McCausland had taken no weapon or instrument of death with him, knowing that if the Lord had called him to make the sacrifice he would provide him with the means; and so casting his eyes over the headboard, he espied a newly sharpened butcher knife stuck to the beam. 'And then,' said he, 'all I had to do was to take the knife down with one hand, while I seized her head with the other, and drew it sharply across her throat—and she bled to death like a stuck calf!'

He had now fulfilled his mission and very cheerfully surrendered himself to suffer the penalty of the law. This was a part of the programme which he coveted as much as the other performance. He wanted to 'suffer for righteousness sake,' and thus to go to heaven as a reward for obeying the command of God. He was immediately arrested; the Grand Jury found a bill of indictment against him for murder in the first degree, and he was brought before the full bench of the Supreme Court and arraigned for trial. When the clerk read the indictment to him and at its conclusion required him to say whether he plead guilty or not guilty, to the charge, with a clear voice and an honest face, he responded, 'GUILTY!'

The Judges, believing that the man was more of a monomaniac than a base murderer, did not wish to put in that plea, but desired that he should plead 'not guilty,' in order that the Jury might bring in such a verdict as would authorize the Court to pronounce a sentence of perpetual confinement rather than that of death, which, as the law then was, could be obviated only by Executive pardon, that would not be safe in his case. And so the Chief Justice said to him that he was not bound to plead 'guilty' to the charge; that was a thing for the Government to prove; and he earnestly advised him to withdraw the plea he had made, and instead thereof put in the plea of 'Not Guilty.' 'What!' exclaimed the prisoner, 'would the Honorable Justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts advise me to lie to their Honors? I did kill the woman; I meant to kill her; I am guilty, and want to suffer the penalty!' What could the Court do? They could not feel it their duty to order him hung; and after consultation, directed the Sheriff to take the prisoner to the Jail whence he came, and leave him there 'to await his sentence.' And there he stayed in that murderer's cell 'awaiting sentence' from October 20th, 1794, to August 22nd, 1829, a period which, after a year's confinement before trial, wanted only two months of thirty-six years, when death released him from a prison that had so long been his solitary home, and from a world whose bright sun and green fields he had not seen for more than one-third of a century.

As often as the Court sat during all that time, he never failed to send word to the Judges by his jailor, requesting them to explain why they neglected their duty in his case, and demanding that they should pronounce the sentence due him; but the court could only renew at every session its instruction to the sheriff to keep him where he was awaiting sentence.

He was an object of great curiosity. All the exercise he had was to pace the floor of his narrow cell, which he did at regular hours. He kept himself and his dungeon exceedingly clean. He washed and combed himself thrice per day; read his Bible systematically, and by the use of other books and of newspapers which were given him, kept up with the passing history of the times. The narration which he gave to visitors, the prayer which he offered to God, and the hymns which he so musically sang, were all well composed and well expressed. His health never failed him till the last month of his existence.

When visitors called to see him—and they were many—he would stand concealed under the front wall of his cell, beside the little grated window, as they approached it to look in, and would not exhibit himself till a hand was thrust through with two cents, which he would receive as his customary fee, and then he would present his noble form with all its manly beauty and dignity. Stroking down his long white beard, after saluting his visitor, he would begin to relate the circumstances of his murder with all the soberness and pious air of an Old Testament Patriarch; then he would pray a fervent prayer, and close by singing a well chosen religious hymn. In the course of a year, he thus collected quite large sums of money, which with his pension he received for his Revolutionary services, he sent to his family, that was highly respectable in Gardiner. They visited him often, and kept him supplied with all the necessaries of life that the jailor was not authorized to provide for him.

During the most of his confinement it was his good fortune to have in the person of his keeper one of the most intelligent and kind-hearted men that ever blessed the society of Augusta—Hon. Pitt Dillingham.

Mr. Dillingham died in July, 1829. It was a shock too severe for the aged prisoner to bear. Therefore he sunk rapidly, and in a single month after followed his kind keeper into the spirit world.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin fires off a string of bons mots or bons bots in its "Spice of Life" column at the eminent professor of the culinary art in the following style:

The following, we understand, are a few of the applicants to professor Eliot for private instruction.

The bashful man, who wishes the best method of 'coaxing the ladies.'

The man whose blood boiled with indignation' how to learn to simmer down.

A young scapegrace to know how to sauce the old nam' without getting a basting himself.

The speculator who has been 'done brown' to know how to 'dip in' without burning his fingers.

The Fenians, entering the latest style of an Irish stew, and asking how to get along without making a mess of it.

The man who has no reputation at steak how to get one.

A raw recruit to know what is the 'right dress' and that if when he is mustered into the army he ought to pepper the enemy or await 'assault.'

A hungry individual who dislikes loafing how to become a 'well bred man.'

A man who has needed much in his life to know if drinking yeast will make him rise any farther.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER. INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS. CATARRH OF THE BLADDER.

STRANGURY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips. A teaspoonful a day of the Constitution Water will relieve you like magic.

PHYSICIANS

Have long since given up the use of buchu, cubebs and juniper in the treatment of these diseases, and only use them for the want of a better remedy.

CONSTITUTION WATER

Has proved itself equal to the task that has devolved upon it.

DIURETICS

Irritate and drench the kidneys, and by constant use soon lead to chronic degeneration and confirmed disease.

We present the Constitution Water to the public with the conviction that it has no equal in relieving the class of diseases for which it has been found so eminently successful in curing; and we trust that we shall be rewarded for our efforts in placing so valuable a remedy in a form to meet the requirements of patient and physician.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Jan. 20, 1866.

DR. GREGG:

Dear Sir:—I wish to inform you that I have been under the treatment of some of our best physicians for nearly two years, without receiving any benefit. I had lost all confidence, and I indulged in but little hope of a cure from any source. My disease was Dropsy, and my physicians told me that there was no cure for me. I was tapped some fifty times, and at the different operations about 1200 pounds of water was removed.

I am happy to inform you that I have been completely restored to health by the use of Constitution Water.

I make this statement hoping it may reach those persons who may be similarly afflicted.

Respectfully,

MRS. MARGILL C. LEVANWAY.

IN DYSMENORRHŒA, OR PAINFUL MENSTRUATION, AND MENORRHAGIA, OR PROFUSE FLOWING.

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menstrual fluid—in one case being too little, and accompanied by severe pain, and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cured by the Constitution Water.

That disease known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments of that organ, and is known by a sense of heaviness and dragging pains in the back and sides and at times accompanied by sharp, lancinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, in all cases, be removed by the medicine.

There is another class of symptoms arising from IRRITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness, which word covers up much ignorance, and in nine cases out of ten the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms. We can only enumerate them here. I speak more particularly of Cold Feet, Palpitation of the Heart, Impaired Memory, Wakefulness, Flashes of Heat, Languor, Lassitude, and Dimness of Vision.

READ! READ! READ!!

DANTILLE, Pa., June, 1862.—Dr. William H. Gregg—Dear Sir:—In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured soon after regaining my usual good health.

Yours truly, J. V. L. DE WITT.

BOSTON CORNERS, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1864.—Wm. H. Gregg & Co.—Gents:—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following certificate of the value of the Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner:—My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back, and in her limbs, with palpitation of the heart and irritation of the bladder. I called a physician, who attended her about three months, when he left her worse than he found her. Then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her for about nine months, and while she was under his care she did not suffer quite as much pain. He finally gave her up, and said "her case was incurable. For," said he, "she has such a combination of complaints that medicine given for one operates against some other of her difficulties." About this time she commenced to use the Constitution Water, and to our utter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly under its treatment, and now superintends entirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure.

WM. M. VAN BEUSCHOTEN.

WEATHERSFIELD, Conn., March 2, 1863.—Dr. W. H. Gregg.—Dear Sir:—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for Inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years, and tried the skill of a number of physicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle of your agents at Hartford, Messrs. Lee, Sisson & Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise, I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it; I feel that it is all and more than you recommended it to be. May the blessing of God ever attend you in your labors of love.
